This is Patricia Andreoli, wife of Daphne Worth, who you all knew as Trollcatz. Daphne died yesterday in New York City from injuries suffered in an accident.

I know she treasured her imaginary internet friends, and wished she had a chance to meet more of you in person. She was surprised and pleased at the depth and breadth of the friendships she made here. She often read comments aloud to me, and admired your intelligence and humor.

If you'd like to make some gesture of respect and farewell, please donate to My Sister's Place, a Washington, D.C. shelter for victims of domestic abuse, in Daphne's name. You can donate with a check mailed to My Sister's Place, P.O. Box 29596, Washington, DC 20017, or donate via PayPal at <http://www.mysistersplacedc.org/make-a-donation.html> (<https://www.livejournal.com/away?to=http%3A//www.mysistersplacedc.org/make-a-donation.html>).

Daphne understood that the greatest act of heroism is kindness. In her memory, be kind today.

...And there goes the weekend

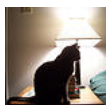

But hey, we got a day and a half of this one! And I got to sleep in for two whole mornings. Too bad

I am so very sorry.

Is there anything at all we can do to help? This must be so hard.

I am so, so sorry to hear this, and so sorry for your loss. I admired Daphne greatly. If there's anything we internet folks can do, let us know. And condolences extended to all of Daphne's nearest and dearest.

Holding Daphne and those who loved her in the Light. May her memory be a blessing and a source of joy for all your days.

By any standard I know of Daphne was brave and kind. She shone with it, a brave little light that helped teach others to be brave and kind by example.

I am so sorry for your loss, and of all those whose lives she touched.

I know the choice of charity wasn't for me in particular, but as someone who's benefited from such a shelter...thank you so much for that.

If there is any way an imaginary internet friend can be of more comfort...I think I can safely speak for all of us when I suggest that you have but to ask, or to give the slightest suggestion of welcome for that.

Thank you for posting -- I've been checking here for news and hoping it would be good. I am so very sorry it's not. I'm glad we were friends, even of the imaginary internet kind, and I miss her. hugs
